Abortion Forum

Fall Fest

ISS Garden Party

Fall Convocation

September was started off right with the Back To School Dance held at the Marvin Center on the Labor Day three day weekend. The Student Orientation Staff welcomed incoming freshmen and transfers who used the opportunity to make new friends, adjust to college life, and enjoy themselves. The favorite dance seemed to be the limbo with freshman Michael Sullivan winning that contest. DJing the event was Andy Flagel of the Residence Hall Association playing tunes like "Wild Thing" by Tone-Loc and "Pump Up the Jam" by Technotronics.

The Abortion Forum, sponsored by the Program Board Political Affairs Committee, featured various campus organizations' representatives who debated the pros and cons of this controversial issue. The College Democrats, Students United to Women's Issues Now (WIN), and the Progressive Student Union defended their pro-choice views while the College Republicans, Christian Fellowship, and the Young Americans for Freedom defended their pro-life views. More than 250 students attended the intense debate on September 5, 1989.

Fall Fest

Fall Fest, held on the Quad was again a splendiferous display of fun in the sun, brought to the students by the Program Board. The G.W.U. community was treated to great weather, and the quad was filled with people all day.

The theme this year was "The Fall of Humanity," and a nun, devil, and angel were seen prowling on the quad, which had been transformed into the Garden of Eden. The Dead Milkmen and the Toasters provided the musical entertainment.

The Toasters played "ska", a mixture of reggae and calypso, while the Milkmen played their popular "Punk Rock Girl."

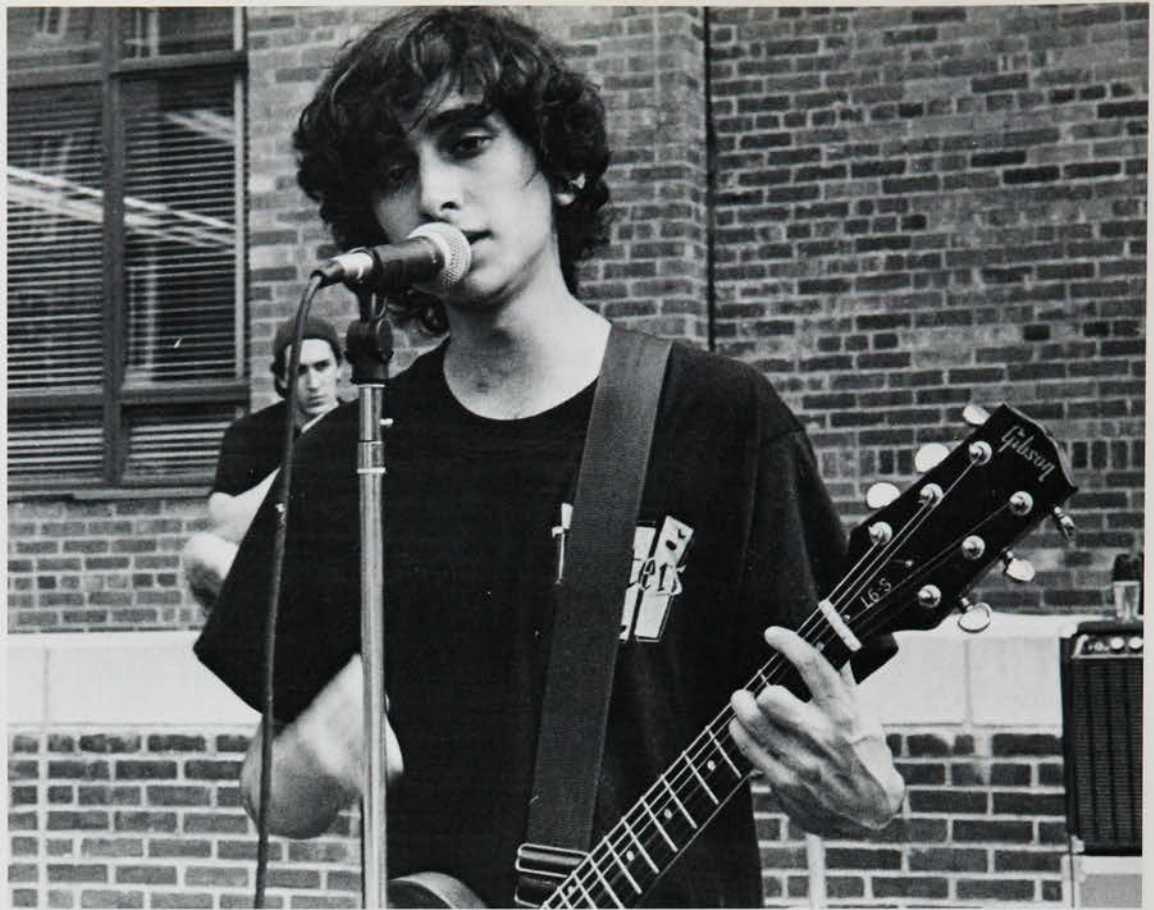

Activities of the day included the Moon Bounce and the Cherry Tree Shoot Yourself, as well as lots of sinful food and drink for anyone who wanted to partake of it.

ISS Party

Welcoming events continued through the month of September. AT&T and the International Students Society sponsored a garden party in the International Services Courtyard.

This was the first official get together for the ISS in the Fall semester and allowed the new and continuing international students to get to know one another. It was also a great opportunity for them to take a break from the fast-paced American life here at GWU. Along with the variety of international foods and cool beverages, the international students were allowed to call home (anywhere in the world) for free.

Convocation

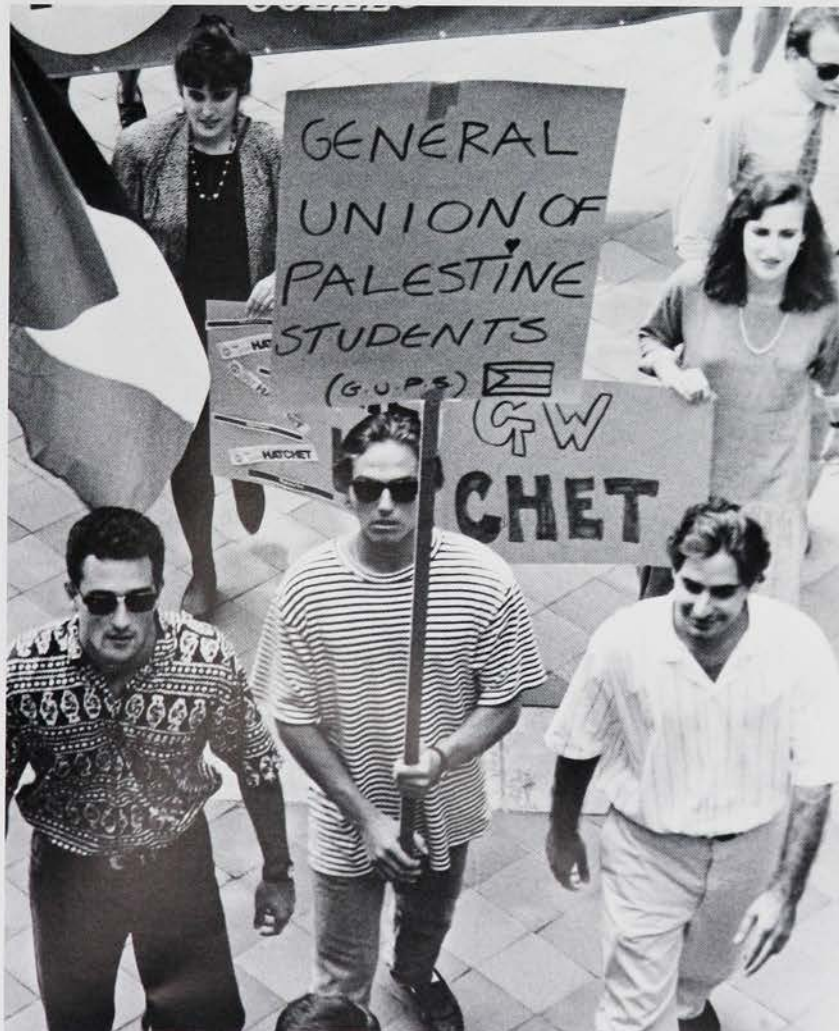

The Fall Convocation officially started the year off with a parade around campus. The many participants included faculty, administration, and a variety of student organizations, such as Program Board, the Pre-Medical Society, and the College Republicans, who carried signs and banners promoting their organizations.

The parade culminated in a ceremony at Lisner Auditorium with inspiring speeches by President Trachtenberg and SA President John David Morris. J.D. spoke about school spirit at the "Greatest University in the world," showing his very own version of G.W.U. spirit. Program Board chair Mary Conneely was the student emcee. University Marshall Jill Kastle was introduced to the University community for the first time in her new position.

Upon completion of the official ceremonies the G.W.U. community adjourned to the quad, where Mariott had prepared hors d'oeuvres and beverages. Students dressed as colonials, passed out G.W.U. buttons and copies of "By George!" Also in attendance was a New Orleans Jazz band, providing music for all to enjoy while they ate.

Soviet Defectors Speak Out

Rep. Phil Crane (R-Wis)

October began with the national Housing Now! march to aid the homeless in cities across the United States. In Washington, D.C., the march was held at the Mall, led by Mitch Snyder, the famous advocate for the homeless as well as Sting, Christopher Reeves, and Tracy Chapman.

A nighttime cruise on the Potomac, on the "Spirit of Washington" was the International Student Society's second major event of the school year. The fine October weather enabled the students to socialize and dance on the upper decks of the ship while looking at the Washington scenic sights from high above the water.

On October 3rd, the infamous John Lydon came to Washington, D.C. to go "Quayle-hunting." Despite the fact that Lydon was wanted at the time by the Virginia police, Public Image Ltd. played at Lisner Auditorium to a packed house.

Strange Boutique opened the Program Board sponsored sold-out show. With their colorful stage backdrop, PiL performed old as well as new hits such as "This is Not a Love Song" and "9 or Happy?"

Even though Lydon's illness did momentarily interrupt the show by a few trips offstage, PiL's unmistakable sound was heard clearly through the auditorium. Strange Boutique opened the show to a packed house.

Soviet Defectors

The month of October is better known for its final day, "All Hallows Even", than anything else. G.W.U. students did not seem to notice the many oddities spotted around campus including clowns, nuns, sperm, Einstein, mice, paintings and monsters. A Halloween dance sponsored by the Program Board was held in the Marvin Center to celebrate. Prizes were awarded and The Now performed live "ska" music.

On October 10th, 1989, over 110 interested students listened to Soviet defectors Alexandra Costa and Yuri Maltsev and House of Representatives Foreign Affairs Committee member Russell Wilson spoke on the recent changes taking place in the Soviet Union. The two defectors explained how the USSR has imposed martial law in the many areas of the Soviet Union experiencing civil unrest. This event was sponsored by the Program Board's Political Affairs Committee.

Cultural Awareness Week

Another of this month's events brought thousands to the Capitol including celebrities like Whoopie Goldberg and Tracy Chapman for the national pro-choice march. Speeches were given on the steps of the Lincoln Memorial by women who felt strongly for their right to choose to have an abortion. The Mall was filled to capacity with thousands holding picket signs explaining their views on abortion, whether they were pro-choice or pro-life.

Coinciding with this rally was the final display of the immense AIDS quilt commemorating victims of Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome. The handmade quilt, made by friends and relatives of the victims, was displayed on the Ellipse near the White House. Thousands visited the quilt sharing their memories of their lost loved ones. This was to be the last time that the quilt would be displayed in its entirety, since its size is now prohibitive.

Visiting G.W.U. courtesy of the Program Board, was the four man funkadelic band, the Red Hot Chili Peppers. With their thrashing style on stage and their poignant lyrics, the band put on quite a show. The show featured hits from their newly released album, including songs such as "Knock Me Down" and "Johnny, Kick a Hole in the Sky." As the bands following tends to be somewhat rowdy, flyers were handed out at Lisner to concert-goers reminding them to control themselves and refrain from damaging the Auditorium.

The B-52s played to a tightly packed capacity crowd on October 6th. Sponsored by the Program Board, members Fred Schneider, Kate Pierson, Keith Strickland, and Cindy Wilson performed such favorites as "Love Shack", "Channel Z", and "Roam" from their latest album "Cosmic Thing". Classics like "Gimme Back My Man" and "Rock Lobster" were also featured.

Politics

One week of November was dedicated to making students aware of politics with events sponsored by the College Democrats and Program Board.

The first night was dedicated to the environment. Eugene Linden from Time Magazine, Santiago Maurao from the Embassy of Brazil, and Dan Nepstad of the National Wildlife Federation discussed the rain forests' future.

The second night featured a debate on the aftermath of the violence in China. Richard Yin and Harold Hinton, representatives from the Sino-Soviet Institute, debated Wu Zurong from the Embassy of China.

On the third night, air safety was discussed by a panel including Roger Fleming of the Air Transport Association, Robert Lubin of the D.C. Attorney FAA, and David Trayhnam of the House Public Works and Transportation Subcommittee on Aviation spoke on the new laws promoting airplane inspections.

For the final night, Congressman Jim Chapman (D-Texas) spoke about space and NASA.

Representative Les Aspin (D-Wis) discussed U.S.- Soviet relations in Fungur Hall. He further explained the necessity of far-reaching arms control negotiations. He explained Congress' reaction to the new "openness." Aspin had a positive outlook for future Soviet-American relations.

Culture Awareness Week

Cultural Awareness Week gave students a chance to experience different cultures. Several of the residence halls had week-long themes. For example, Thurston Hall hosted events with the Caribbeans, the Palestinians, and the North Africans while Everglades Hall became acquainted with Indonesian culture. Maps, posters, trinkets, music, and food were made available so as to acquaint students with the various nationalities.

Program Board presented the Psychedelic Furs at the Smith Center this month. This unique musical group played a mix of their older material as well as some of their newer tunes. Although the Center was not filled to capacity, those present in the audience were treated to a good show.

Winter Ball

Jean-Luc Ponte is an internationally famous electric violinist, accompanied by a high energy, four member band. The musical range is from classic to jazz fusion. His unique repertoire highlighted his newest album "Storytelling."

The Bodeans, sponsored by the Program Board, played to a sold out crowd in Lisner. Although this group has only been in the college/progressive music scene for a few years, they have already produced three albums. The show consisted mainly of music from the latest of the three, "Home."

Early in December, the First Annual Winter Ball was held, cosponsored by the Residence Hall Association and American University. The semiformal took place in the Mayflower Hotel's Grand Ballroom. A risky venture, as it was the first official G.W.U. dance, nonetheless it was well attended.

After returning to school after Winter Vacation, students began second semester and the new decade of 1990. To welcome the students back, the Student Orientation Staff held their second Back to the School Dance.

Martin Luther King Jr. Day, January 15th, was marked by awards given in Dr. King's honor. This year the MLK Medal for outstanding service in the field of human and civil rights was presented to Black People's Union President Mark Chichester and Reverend Joseph L. Lowery, President of the Southern Christian Leadership conference. Lowery had also received an award, presented by Coretta Scott King in Atlanta, Georgia. Lowery commented that one of King's greatest gifts was providing a moral context for the civil rights battle.

President Trachtenberg praised Chichester's achievements and added that he had made the GW community very proud. He reminded the audience that King's dream had not been fully realized and much remains to be done.

Keith Pettigrew and Betram Macleish performed their version of "Happy Birthday," a tribute written by Stevie Wonder to Martin Luther King. The ceremony also featured the Eastern High School Choir performing several numbers.

Over 100 people participated in a gun control debate. YAF, CD's, the PSU and the NRA exchanged their views in a lively forum on January 22nd.

Winterfest

Despite the disappointing turnout at the first ever Winterfest, those who came enjoyed themselves. The Program Board sponsored the event in the Smith Center. The musical groups Great Red Shark and Egypt played throughout the day, while students jumped on the moon bounce and ate submarine sandwiches.

January was a good month for entertainment. George Carlin, the comedian, visited the Smith Center and joked with the basketball crowd after a Colonials game. However, some of Carlin's material was questionable. His decision to poke fun at minorities, homosexuals, and feminists annoyed many students.

Program Board sponsored The The, who played January 30th to a sold out crowd in Lisner Auditorium. Tunes from their newest album, "Mind Bomb" were played in this leg of the "The The versus the World" Tour. The light show was deemed spectacular. The show had been postponed last fall because of a death in the family of one of the band's guitarists, Johnny Marr.

MDA Superdance

The MDA Superdance was a dance to raise money for the Muscular Dystrophy Association. Music was provided from the radio station 105.9 WAVA, and the food for the hungry dancers was provided by Marriott. Groups and individual dancers representing various greek houses, residence halls, and campus organizations participated in the overnight marathon.

Washington, D.C. mayoral candidate Sharon Pratt Dixon spoke to about 115 students on January 23rd, 1990. Sponsored by the Program Board Political Affairs Committee, Dixon discussed issues pertinent to the race. Also speaking was D.C. Councilman Dave Clarke, a GW graduate, who is also running for mayor. Clarke was sponsored by the College Democrats.

Homecoming

February was a busy month politically as well as socially. The annual Homecoming events were held. The events included basketball games, a tailgate party, and a George Washington look-alike contest. Gutheridge dominated all of the competitions. School spirit was at its highest point in years. The ISS sponsored a scavenger hunt during their Coffeehour. Teams searched for different forms of government, sayings in different languages, and gum wrappers in different languages.

At the Homecoming dinner-dance, students enjoyed a buffet dinner and danced until 1 am. A jazz band played during dinner. Kamal Siblini and Robin Applebaum were crowned Homecoming King and Queen. The event was sponsored by the Program Board, the Black Peoples' Union, and the Residence Hall Association.

An alumni/student pancake breakfast followed the dance. It was free for those brave enough to get up early after the dance. There was a Homecoming parade later that day starting at Thurston Hall. The residence halls competed in float contests and tried to shout the loudest at the basketball games.

Black History Month

Black History Month featured events sponsored by the Black Peoples' Union. One of the events was a concert by B.B. King. After reviving his musical career with his successful hit with the group U2, "When Love Comes to Town", he is touring college campuses across the country.

King hobbled on stage with the use of crutches because of a fall at Northwestern University. However, the injury did not affect his famous blues playing.

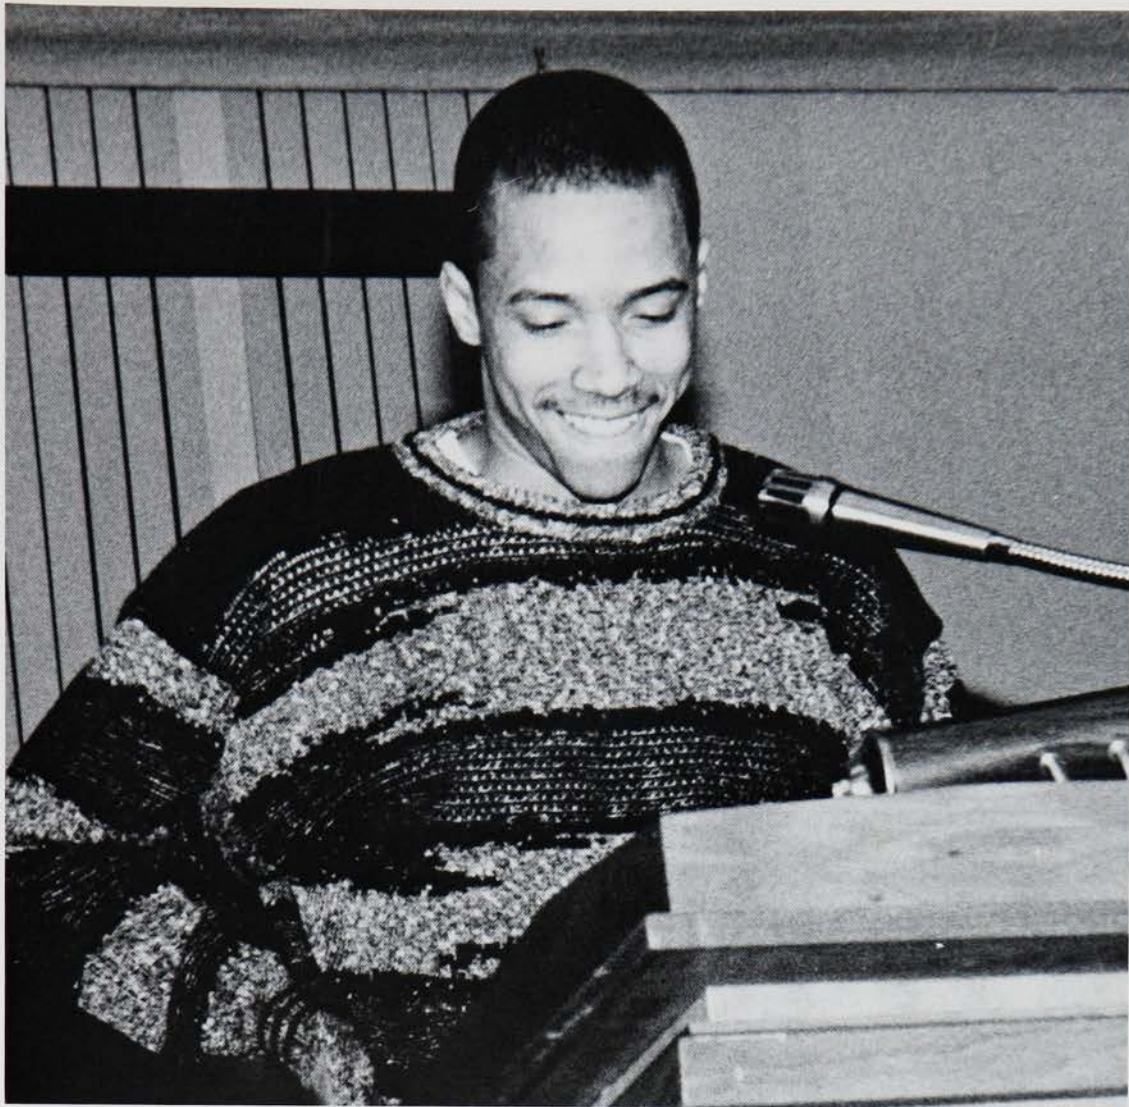

He did not just play the blues, King gave the audience his philosophy on life. He explained that people like the blues because "it's truth that appeals to everybody." He then asked for his Gibson guitar Lucille and began playing "How Blue Can You Get."

Dr. Francis Welsing spoke on February 1st in the Marvin Center Theatre.

State of the Students

The State of the Students gave students updates on the activities of certain campus organizations. It featured Barbara De Rosa of the Cherry Tree yearbook, Herbie Mendelson of the Interfraternity Council, Mark Chichester of the Black Peoples' Union, Buffy Seff of the Panhellenic Council, Mary Conneely of the Program Board, Andrew Flagel of the Residence Hall Association, Mike Sandler of the Marvin Center Governing Board, Javid Sonde of the Engineer's Council, Tracy Huggins of the International Student Society, Michelle Potter of the Student Orientation Staff, John Klee of the Student Association Senate, and J. D. Morris of the Student Association. DeRosa mentioned that a third of the yearbook staff consists of freshmen. Mendelson spoke of the Greek community's charity activities. Conneely reminded the audience of PB successes such as the Fall Fest.

Engineers Week

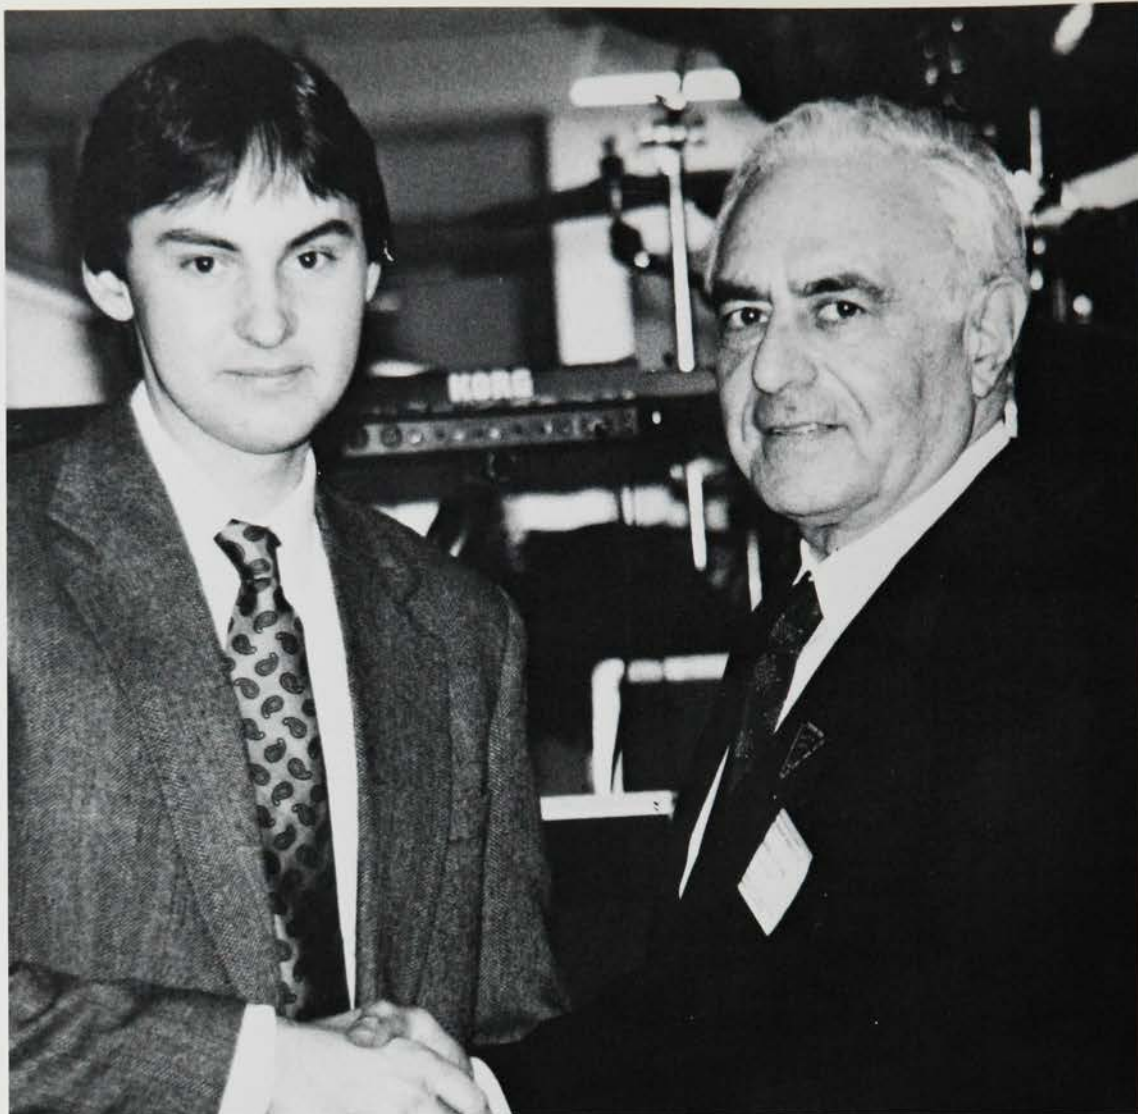

Customarily, the third week of February is set aside for engineers. This year's events required George Washington University engineering students to build bridges out of popsicle sticks, play Tetris for money, play in the volleyball tournament, drop raw eggs from sixty feet in the air with only their hand-made containers to protect the fragile egg from breaking, and build mobile objects using rat traps, toilet paper, PVC pipes, balloons and straws for the Rube Goldberg Contest.

Also, a faculty-student reception and professor forum were held. The events of the week were culminated at the Engineers Ball on Saturday, February 24.

Overall, this year's activities were a tremendous hit.

Martha's

Former United States Senator and 1972 Presidential Candidate George McGovern spoke to over 300 students on February 7th. His topic was foreign relations during the Reagan years. He attacked the Bush administration's defense budget and suggested reducing military spending and redistributing it. Now that the Soviet threat of an European invasion has diminished, McGovern considers economic stability more important than military dominance. The event was sponsored by the Program Board Political Affairs Committee.

Martha's Marathon of Birthday Bargains raised over 15,000 dollars this year bringing the three year total to over 50,000 dollars. According to Andy Flagel, this makes the Residence Hall Association the leading contributor among the student organizations to university funds. The money raised from the event will be used for housing scholarships. Students bid for the top lottery picks, photographs, embassy donations, and other valuable items.

ISS Party

The seventh annual Suitcase Party, co-sponsored by the Black People's Union and the Residence Hall Association, was held at Marvin Center. Sophomore Paul Haber won the trip to San Francisco. He and sophomore David Peters were driven by limousine immediately after the party to a Crystal City hotel. On Friday morning they left for the west coast city. The lucky students stayed at a five-star San Franciscan hotel and received $300 each for spending money.

The Winter Convocation took place on Sunday, February 18, 1990 in the Charles E. Smith Center. President of the General Alumni Association, Edward Nelson Vest presented Distinguished Alumni Achievement Awards to Elsie Carper, Donald O. Castell, Edward F. Mitchell, J. Clay Smith, Jr. and Kenneth W. Starr. Honorary Degrees were given to Colin Luther Powell and Claiborne deBorda Pell.

The College Republicans sponsored Inside Politics Week. Yonah Alexander spoke on terrorism, concluding that technology had caused an increase in violent crime.

Elections

GW students were given the chance to vote for their Student Association and GW Student Senate representatives on February 27 and 28. Candidates campaigned for two weeks prior under the watchful eyes of the Joint Elections Committee. At the Candidate Forum, students listened to speeches and asked questions concerning each candidate's abilities. Campaigners urged students to vote for their candidate. On Poll Night, students collected at the Rat to hear the results. While waiting, some provided entertainment by telling jokes, with presidential candidate Keith Pettigrew as one of the highlights of the evening. The results were announced at 12:30 AM. Frank Petramale became Student Association President by a margin of 43 votes over Pettigrew. Dave Parker recieved the most votes for Student Association Vice President. Sonny Abassi was the leading vote winner for the position of Columbian School Senator, Gary Frank and Scott Lisman became the School of Government and Business Senators. Lonny Chick won the race for the Elliot School of International Affairs Senator.

Three Soviet Central Committees spoke on the transition in Eastern Europe to about 100 students at a Program Board event on March 1st in the Marvin Center. Alexandre Lebedon, Deputy Head of Ideology; Leonid Dohrokhotov, top member of the International Information Committee and Alexandre Likhotal, Deputy Head of the International Security Department.

National Law Center invited retired D.C. Appeals Court Judge Robert H. Bork. He addressed several issues such as the challenging of Roe v. Wade and President Bush's future nominations to the Supreme Court. Bork explained that Bush's administration would agree with his nomination but the Democratically ruled Senate would not, and that abortion is the one issue that divides the court with Associate Justice Sandra Day O'Connor as the deciding vote.

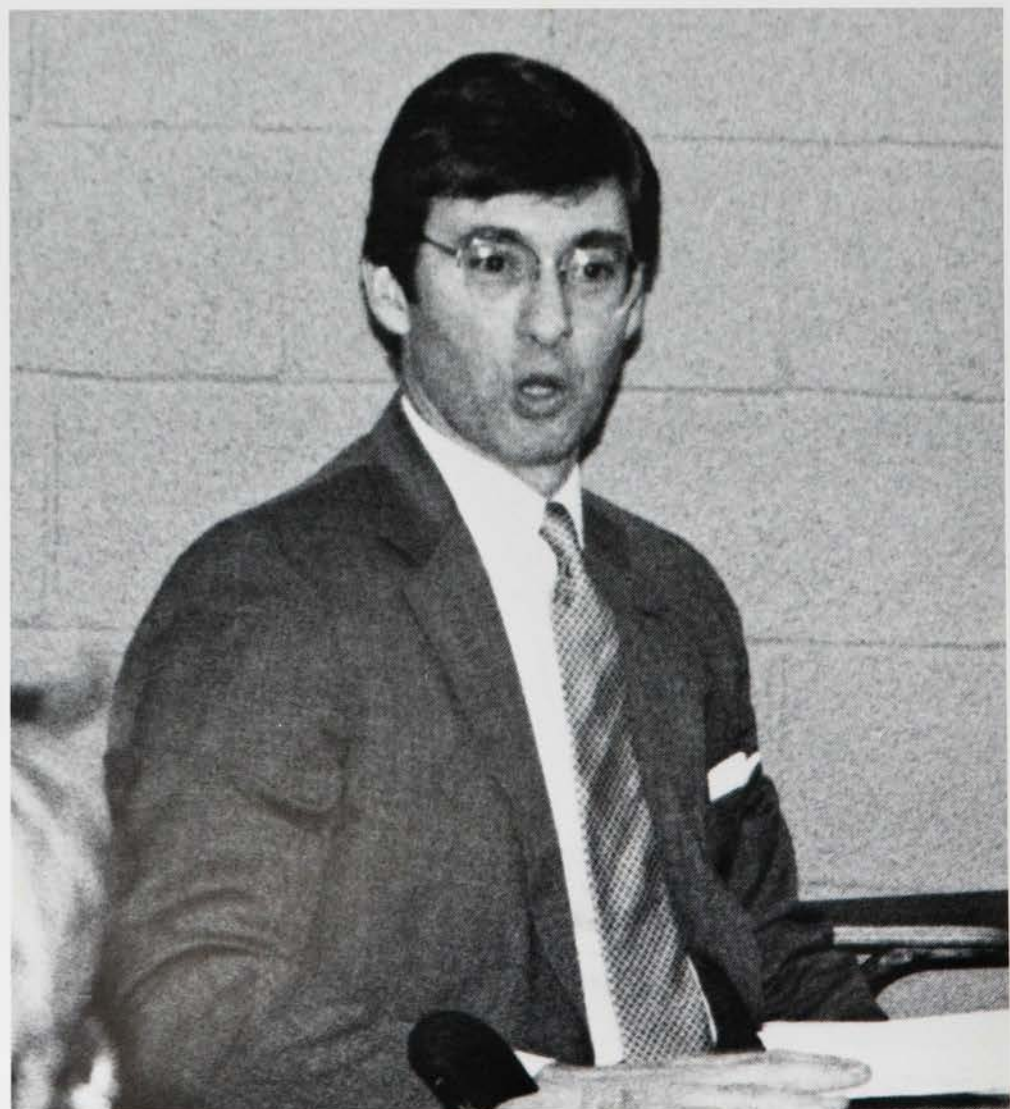

Senator John Warner (R-Va) spoke at the Marvin Center. He currently is serving on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. He was sponsored by the Euroclub.

The College Democrats sponsored Tom Downey (D-NY) who spoke about the Democratic party's lack of purpose, which he feels needs to improve; as well as its communication with its constituents.

All Nighter

The annual Miriam's All nighter took place March 23-24. The event started Saturday night and continued Sunday morning. It was sponsored by the GW Community Action Network, Board of Chaplains, GW Program Board, Joint Food Service Board, and GW Athletic Department and allowed participants to compete in activities ranging from Twister to volleyball. The combined team of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity and Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority was the victorious team. It's purpose was to raise money to benefit Miriam's Kitchen, a charity organization which provides meals for Washington's homeless.

Nine hysterical actors/singers showed their wares at the Rat on March 23. The Improvisation, Inc. from the Washington, D.C. area have been performing together for five years. With suggestions yelled from the audience, the group played out crazy street scenes and invented new musical instruments. The Improv was sponsored by the Program Board and was a great success.

Eric Overmeyer's "On The Verge," sponsored by the GW Department of Theatre and Dance, was held from March 29th to Sunday, April 1st in the Dorothy Betts Marvin Theater. The comedy depicted the adventures of three Victorian women on safari.

Representative Barney Frank (D-Mass.) spoke to about 150 people in Fungler Hall on Tuesday, March 27th. He was sponsored by the LGPA, PB, and the CDs during GW's first Gay Awareness Week. Frank insisted that although homosexuals face significantly less prejudice than they did a decade earlier, gays and lesbians should not be satisfied or grateful. There is still much to be done, he declared.

PB also cosponsored a speech by D.C. magazine publisher and editor William A. Regardie who addressed about 90 people in Fungler Hall on March 7th. He discussed the racial controversy regarding his honorary degree from the SGBA.

Greek Week 1990 featured pool relays, a Senior Night featuring slides from the past four years, and the Greek and Goddess competition.

Comedy Night

The Program Board sponsored the Rat Jam on March 24th. Five different groups competed for the opportunity to play at the Spring Fling on April 21st. Why started off the evening at five p.m., followed by Mitch Tregar, Ronny G. & the Scream, Electric Mayhem, and Frontier Theory. It was a close race but the winner was Frontier Theory. The group played a variety of music such as The Ramones' "I Wanna be Sedated," and The Who's "Pinball Wizard," as well as original material.

The Program Board sponsored New York Comedy Night featuring Kevin Lee, Bob Harros, and Butch Burns. It was held at the Rat on Wednesday, March 28.

The Student Association sponsored a Student-Faculty Basketball Game on Friday, March 30 in the Smith Center in which Morris' Monsters played against Tracht's Tigers. The student team included John David Morris, Mark Chichester, Kamal Siblini, Keith Pettigrew, Andrew Alperstein, Mary Conneely, Christian Downs, and Adam Lubkin.

International Week

GW's international organizations shared their cultures, traditions, politics, and perspectives in a weeklong festival designed to draw students closer to their international peers. Sena Kwawu, director of international affairs for the Student Association coordinated the events.

The keynote address was given by Aubrey Mokoena, chairman of the Free Mandela Movement and youth leader of the African Congress on April 2nd in the Marvin Center Marketplace. Mokoena declared that American support of South African Liberation is even more important now following Nelson Mandela's release. He went on to say that reformist actions in South Africa are mostly responses to worldwide political pressure and the discomfort of some Afrikaaners rather than acts of altruism.

Other events included a Palistinian exhibit of cultural artifacts, music and cuisine, a performance of Japanese artistic dance with Nihon Buyo, study abroad information sessions, an ISS Coffeehour, and an international film series. Strong Hall hosted "The World At Your Doorstep" with food and entertainment from different countries. The week's activities were ended with a talent show and fashion show at the Embassy Dinner.

Jim Wright

Former speaker of the U.S. House of Representatives Jim Wright spoke to over four hundred students on April 4th in Funder Hall. He discussed current issues, saying that the three deficits facing the United States today — a budget deficit, a trade deficit, and a social deficit — have “ripped gaping holes in our social fabric.” Wright also discussed his recent resignation from Congress. The Young Americans for Freedom protested his visit to campus.

The Excellence In Student Life Awards rewarded students such as Sena Kwawu, Marc Morse, and Andy Flagel for their contribution to student life.

The College Democrats sponsored discussions regarding the District of Columbia. On Thursday, April 12th, D.C. Police Chief Isaac Fulwood, mayoral candidate Sharon Pratt Dixon, representatives from the Metropolitan Police, and a staff associate of the House Committee in the District of Columbia discussed the devastating effects of crime and violence on the District.

Protest

The news of tuition increases brought nearly 300 law students to Rice Hall on Tuesday, April 3rd. GW security guards refused to allow the protestors in the building but eventually Student Association Vice President for Academic Affairs Paul Josephson and SA NLC Senator Lisa Sotir were permitted to speak to members of the administration. Others present included President elect Frank Petramale and EVP elect Dave Parker. Petramale declared that the problem concerned undergraduates as well as graduates. The peaceful protest led to talks between the law students and President Joel Trachtenburg.

Peter Murphy entertained his audience at Lisner Auditorium on Saturday, April 14th. Sponsored by the Program Board, the ex-Bauhaus member's concert was nearly sold out. Dressed in black, Murphy looked ghostly with his white hair and skin.

Murphy performed songs from his new album "Deep" such as "The Line Between the Devil's Teeth" and "Deep Ocean Vast Sea." A local band, Manifesto, opened for Murphy.

Spring Fling

The Program Board sponsored Spring Fling on Saturday, April 21st. The event, held in the Smith Center because of rain, provided students with a pleasant break from studies with hours of fun. There were free food and drinks as well as free T-shirts, keychains, bumper stickers for the first to arrive. Those who could produce age ID drank beer in the "beer garden." Others played on the Moon Bounce.

The Cherry Tree's Shoot Yourself allowed students to get their pictures taken with friends while bands Frontier Theory and Royal Crescent Mob played. WRGW provided the music between bands and gave out free cassettes, CDs, and posters.

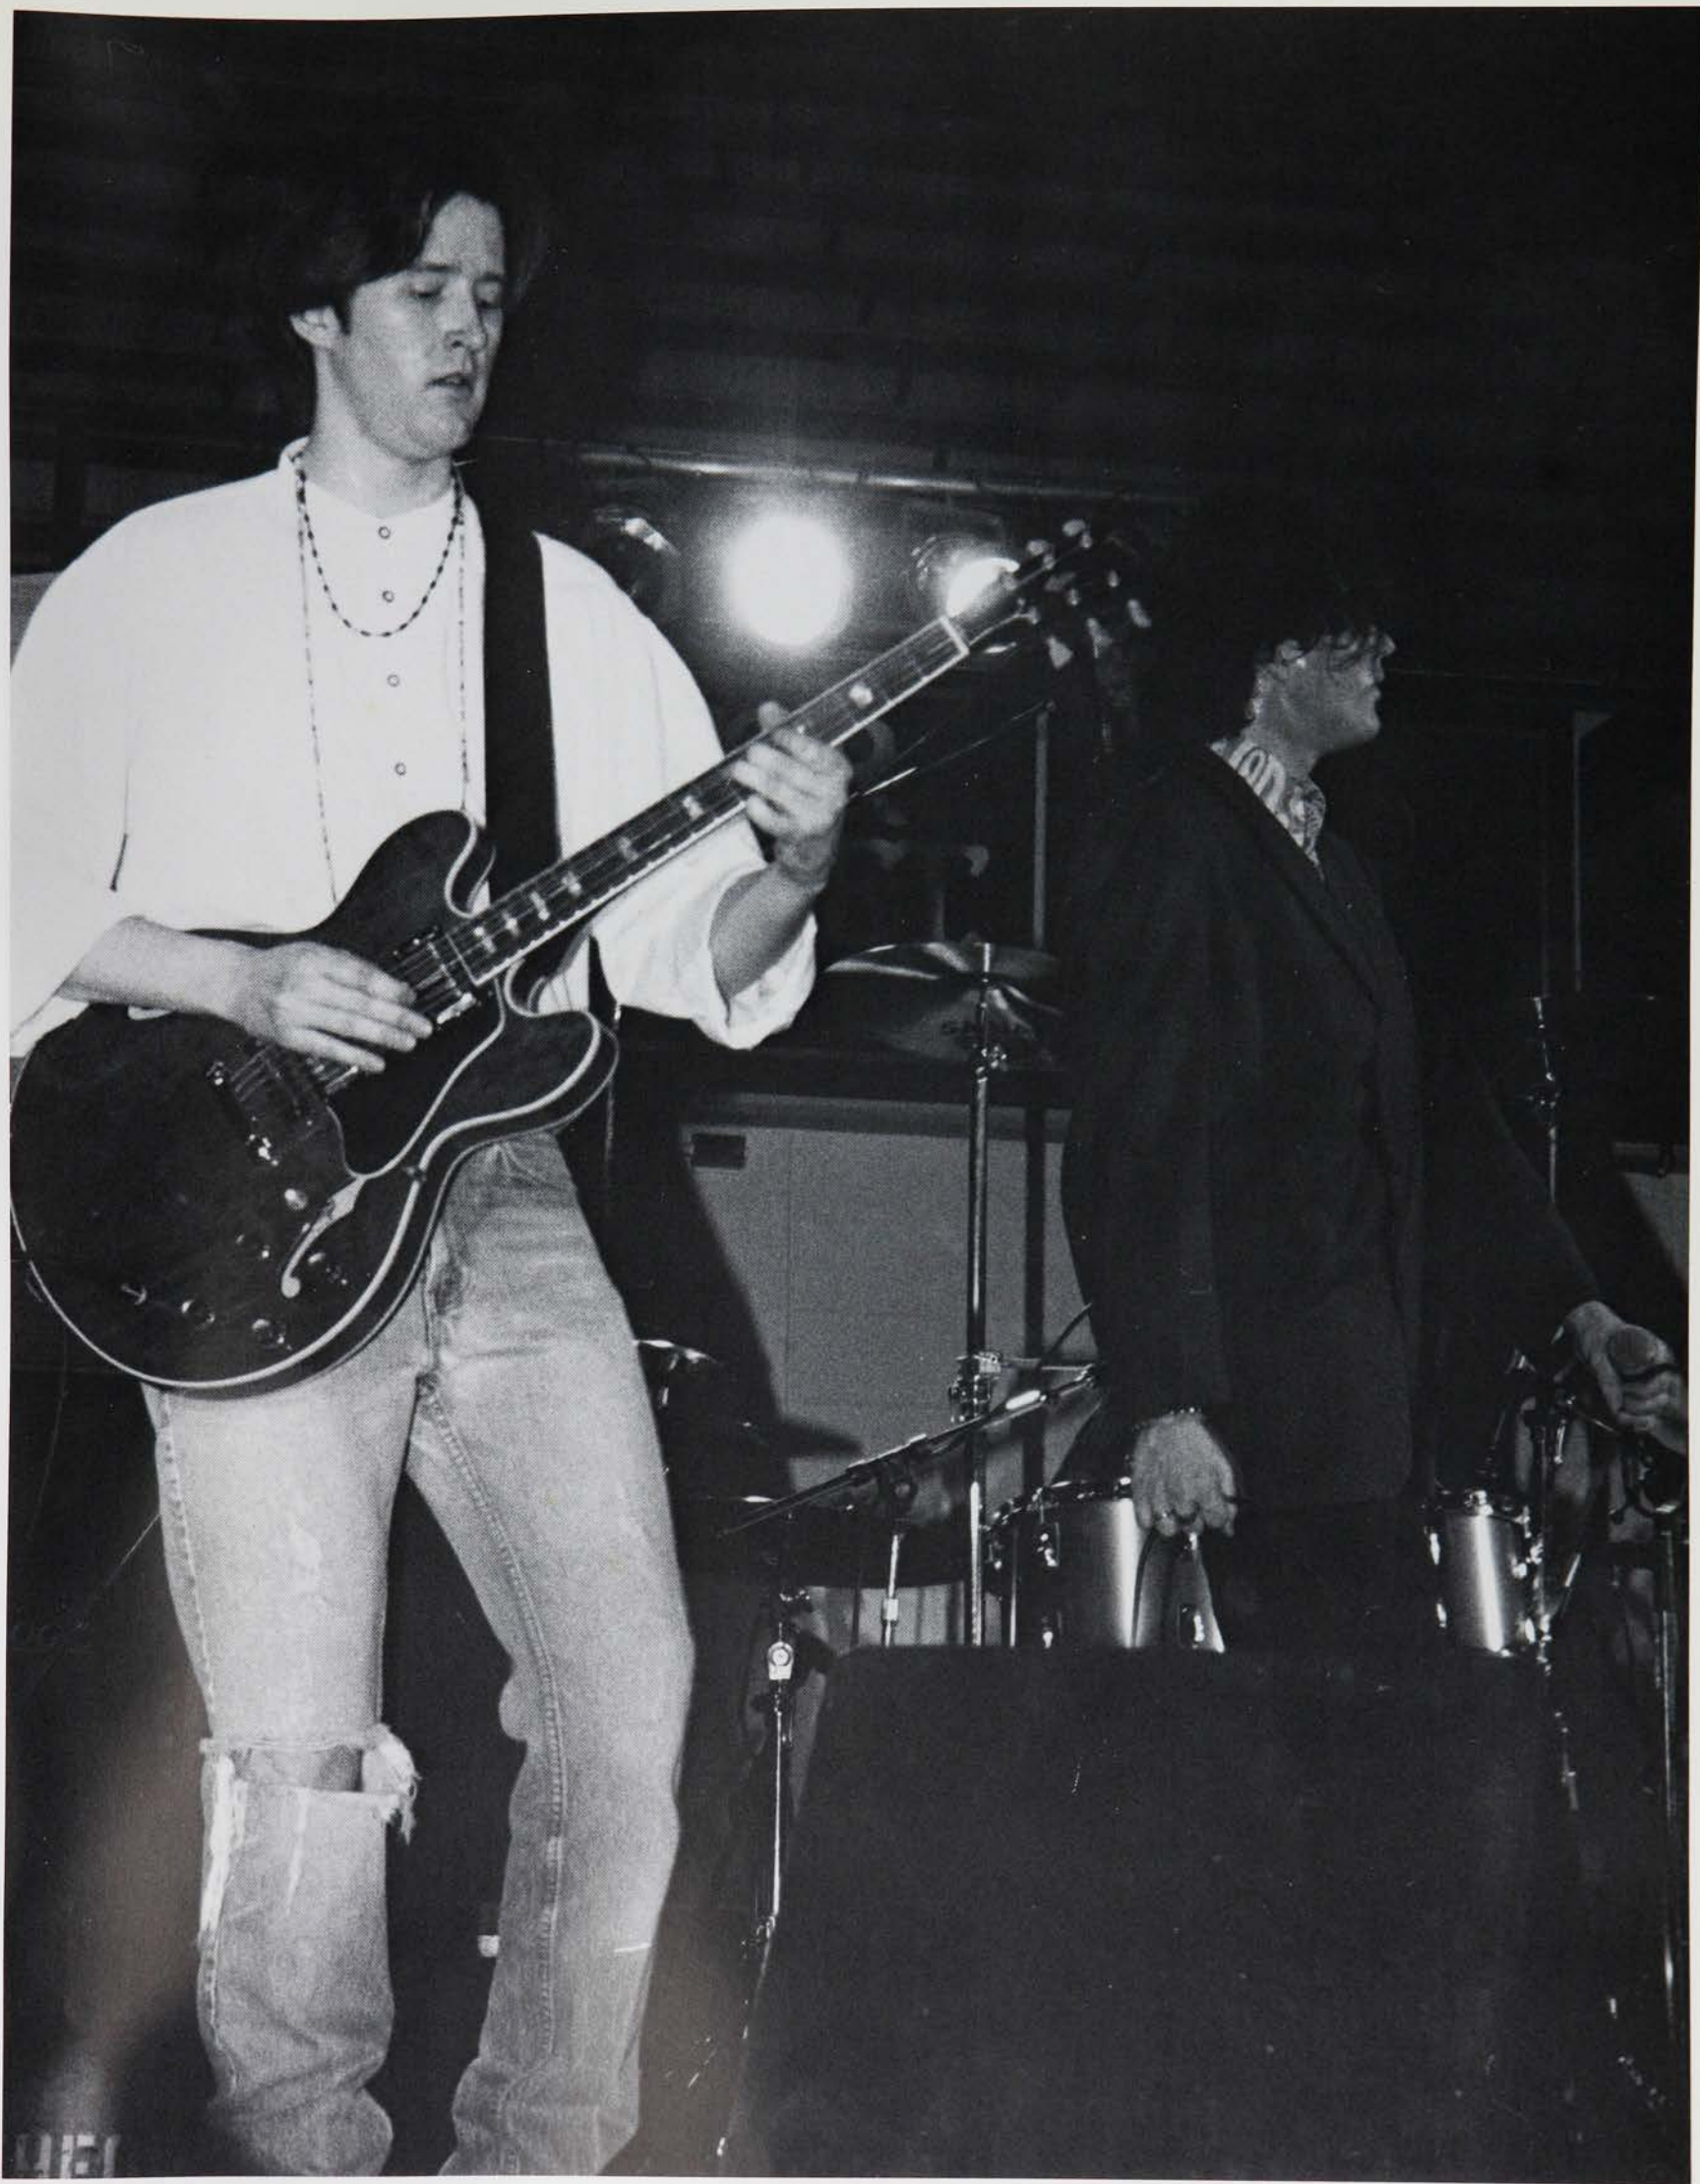

Earth Day 1990 was aimed at focusing attention towards enviromental concerns and broaden the ecological horizons of all those who gathered for the festivities. It took place on Sunday, April 22. The rally featured celebrities such as John Denver, Robyn Hitchcock, Billy Bragg, Ziggy Marley, the Fabulous Thunderbirds and the 10,000 Maniacs. Richard Gere, Woody Harrelson, Olivia Newton John, and Kirstie Alley also made an appearance. Some, however, were really there to try to catch a glimpse of Tom Cruise! Cruise who was hosting the event was the main attraction and was welcomed by thousands of screaming fans.

Quad Party

The Residence Hall Association sponsored a quad party on Saturday, April 28th. Students were able to take a break from studying for exams and celebrate the end of classes. Highlights included having your picture taken with the Simpsons as well as free food and drinks for all. The Cherry Tree Shoot Yourself also made an appearance.

The tenth annual "Chalk-In" was held on Tuesday, April 17th. Students, faculty, and staff collected at the Gelman Library yard to create sidewalk masterpieces with colored chalk. Colored balloons, music, and T-shirts were distributed. A popular spring tradition, the event was sponsored by the Counseling Center.

The Indigo Girls appeared at Lisner Auditorium on April 17th. Woody Harrelson of the sitcom "Cheers" played with the group and later went out with some GW students. Harrelson and his party walked past Crawford Hall singing. However when some GW security officers insisted that they stop, the actor was led to G. G. Flipps, more commonly known as Odds where he played the guitar and sang to customers.

Graduation

Graduation took place on Sunday, May 13th. The SGBA's graduation ceremony featured George Mitchell (D-ME), Majority Leader of the U.S. Senate. Meanwhile Lynne Cheney, chair of the National Endowment for the Humanities, spoke at the CCAS ceremony. Yuri Vladimirovich Dubinin, Soviet ambassador to the U.S., addressed the ESIA's graduating students. Talbot Shelton Huff, Jr. spoke at the the SEAS.

Sinead O'Connor played at Lisner Auditorium on Saturday, May 5th sponsored by the Program Board. During her sold-out concert, O'Connor performed songs from her latest album, "I Do Not Want What I Haven't Got."

THANK YOU'S

JOHN BAILEY:

For your seemingly limitless supply of helpful and creative suggestions, infinite patience, and friendship.

TIM APPAIAH:

For your computer skills, without which we couldn't have published the book. THANK YOU!! (See I said it again!)

LIZ PANYON:

For always taking time to listen-even when you really didn't have time, for constant support in all things.

POTTS AND MYRNA:

For always being willing to help us out, for the extra day of senior portrait shooting, for driving in so often.

STEVE MORSE:

For being such a great help getting our wonderful computer and printer, and for taking my abuse so well.

SPECIAL THANKS to DAVE AUSTIN

WE OWE A LOT TO...

DEAN HANSON - we will miss you a lot - take care!

Congrats and Best Wishes from the Faculty and Staff of the School of Engineering and Applied Science to the Class of 1990

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
ALUMNI RELATIONS OFFICE

Congratulations Seniors! For many of you, your time at GWU has come to an end. ... or has it? Did you realize that upon your graduation from GWU you are automatically a member of the General Alumni Association? That's right; you're entitled to all the benefits that the school offers it's alumni. So ... come on by Alumni House and pick up your GW Alumni I.D. card.

We hope to see you soon and often!

ALUMNI RELATIONS OFFICE
714 21st Street, NW
Washington, DC 20052

P.S. Don't forget — we won't know where you are if you don't tell us. Please keep us informed of your current address! Thanks!

Congratulations To

THE LAST WORD

Jennifer Gottshall, Sena Kwawu, Jonathan Cohen, Barbara De Rosa

"I see me and you and all the things you do
Keep turning round and round in my mind.
Forget the weather we should always be together
And any other thought is unkind..."

— Sting

Editor & Honorary Editor-in-Chief Mohab Akhnoukh

"For history records the patterns of mens lives, they say:
Who slept with who and with what results
Who fought and who won and who lived to lie about it afterwards.
All things, it is said, are duly recorded —
All things of importance, that is."

— Ralph Ellison

So much to say, and so little space to say it. However, I do get the last word. I hope you like the book. I have spent the last four years of my life involved with the Cherry Tree, and gained and lost numerous friends because of it. I apologize to those whose names, etc. are wrong. The computer system is new to us, regardless, I am very excited about the index, and am pleased to have been able to bring the idea into fruition. As many people know, I have always been bad with names. We all tried very hard to get things straight.

First, I want to thank my family, whose support was much appreciated throughout my career at GWU. Special thanks go to my roommate Jennifer Sur of whom I do not have a photo. You're the greatest! Without your help I would not have made it. You have been a loyal friend, and I shall miss you and keeping you awake at night — even until 5AM at deadline time! Thanks also go to Sena Kwawu and Jennifer Gottshall, who listened and humored me even when I was worrying about nothing at all. Jonny Cohen I will miss you very much, and I wish you luck in Law School — I can't wait to be your Secretary of State! Also thanks go to Bob Castro. Your support and understanding mean a lot to me. I would also like to thank the Ed's, the Mike's, Phil, the Sigma Nu boys (men), and the whole crazy gang. Thanks go as well to Ann Marie Winlund, whose enthusiasm for the Cherry Tree is matched by none, without whose memory and darkroom prowess we could never have published. Finally, thanks go to Theresa James, Brooke Toni, Shazia Azhar, and Angela Casey without your help this would have been impossible.

Despite mocking GWU for 4 long years, I do admit that I will be sad to see it go. There are too many private jokes, et cetera to begin going into them here, so I shan't. There are also too many people to thank here, so I shan't. You know who you are, and you are in my heart always. Good luck to you all, wherever you may go and whatever you may do. Take care.

— Barbara Marie De Rosa

"Don't go changin', to try and please me
You never let me down before
Don't imagine you're too famili
And I don't see you anymore

I would not leave you in times of trouble
We never could have come this far
I took the good times, I'll take the bad times
I'll take you just the way you are..."
